I wanted to put it writing -

I haven't forgotten or taken for granted the amazing gift that you've given to me. I almost feel like saying, I haven't forgotten where I've come from - wherever that is -

I think it might be here - Hialeah, Miami, family - here specifically + generally; literally and figuratively... here - where I really started my life.

Thank you - I know that the only way to express my gratitude to you and your unbelievable generosity + kindness is to keep doing the right thing + staying clean I am - just for today. I always think about the conversations we've had and the knowledge that you've bestowed upon me - my staying clean is all about creating a happy, healthy, peaceful + loving life for myself. It's also about doing right by and for those people who have always loved, cared + helped me. You are wonderful.
